23. CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY (CSR)

Corporate Social Responsibility is the commitment by business to perform ethically and contribute to economic development while improving the quality of life of the workforce and their families as well as of the local community and society at large. CSR is clearly on capacity building, empowerment of communities, inclusive socio-economic growth, environment protection, promotion of green and energy efficient technologies, development of backward regions, and upliftment of the marginalized and under-privileged sections of the society.

Essentially, Corporate Social Responsibility which is deliberate inclusion of Public Interest into corporate decision making by undertaking major project for development of a backward district has the potential of contributing significantly in the long run to socio economic growth in the backward regions. The emerging concept of CSR goes beyond charity and requires the company to act beyond its legal obligations and to integrate social, environmental and ethical concerns into the company's business process.

CSR does not emanate directly from external demands but from organizationally embedded processes. These processes prompt the organization to view its relationships with stakeholders in a different perspective, which in turn influences its engagement with them.

AREAS TO BE COVERED UNDER CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Eradicating hunger, poverty and malnutrition, promoting preventive health care and sanitation and making available safe drinking water (as per guidelines issued by Government of India, Ministry of Corporate Affairs). Generally, the underprivileged and backward communities/areas where company has its operations would be covered under the policy.
